WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

WHERE THIS STANDS

THE STANDARD THAT WAS NOT MET

Excellence — We strive to do our best on every job, every day. We maintain high standards, continue to improve, and look for ways to become better at what we do.

WHY THIS MATTERS

EMPLOYEE HANDBOOK

6.1 Standards of Conduct

Moving work only holds together while people, trucks, equipment, arrival windows and the jobs behind them all stay coordinated. One person's decision carries down the rest of the day.

Customer complaint — specifically names you

When a customer names an individual, their concern was tied directly to that person's conduct or performance. A complaint takes management time to investigate and resolve, and can end in discounts, refunds, lost referrals, negative reviews or a claim.

61+ mins late

At this point management may have to restructure the day entirely. Trucks, crews and customers are scheduled around expected staffing, so an extended absence affects numerous employees and customers rather than only the person who is late.

Claim

Damage has direct financial consequences through repair, replacement, claims administration, insurance exposure and management time. It also affects how far the customer trusts us, and whether they recommend us or come back.

WHAT THE RECORD SHOWS

Counted from the points log. These are figures the system can evidence; nothing here is an estimate.

- 3 late arrivals.
- 1 shift missed at short notice.
- 2 incidents that reached a customer as a complaint or a claim.
- A claim of $550.00 for floor damage is recorded against job 10659 on September 27, 2026. You were on the crew for that job and carry a 3 point deduction for it.

PREVIOUS DISCUSSIONS OR WARNINGS ON THIS SUBJECT

Verbal 28 August about timekeeping. Verbal 19 September after the hour-late start.

WHAT MUST CHANGE

Be at the shop and ready to work at your scheduled start time, every shift. If something goes wrong on a job, tell Matthew the same day rather than letting the customer be the one who raises it.

Failure to show immediate and sustained improvement will result in further disciplinary action up to and including termination.

Nothing in this notice creates any guarantee of employment for a specific period of time or in any way modifies your at-will employment relationship.
